What a Fair Play Partnership Delivers

"Working with Annie, Meredith and Quint was an absolute joy — they were incredible collaborators, creative partners, and true champions for Her Justice throughout the entire process! They gave us the opportunity to reach an entirely new audience, and we walked away with new donors, new advocates, new friends of the organization, and, most importantly, new dollars. They brought so much creativity, care, and energy to the partnership, and we're incredibly grateful that they chose to put Fair Play's spotlight on Her Justice."

What a Fair Play Partnership Delivers

"Fair Play is an idea born out of the desire on the part of Meredith and Annie Minogue to use their talent and music connections to create a community of artists who are committed to the work of nonprofit organizations. They are passionate and dedicated to partnering with nonprofits across all sectors to provide unique events focused on education and fund-raising. The events they create are well produced, professional, and bring to organizations a new way to broaden their funding base. Fair Play provides a welcome way to combine art and social justice commitment for the greater good in a way that is thoroughly enjoyable!"
